

President's Message

Firstly, I would like to thank former President Shelley Okubo for persistently recruiting me to step up for Vice President/President Elect. Here we are, a year later at the 2011-2012 Board of Directors Installation. The theme was “Fun, Fresh, Present,” with an emphasis on PRESENT.

THANK YOU for being PRESENT. The committee commercials were incredible! Creativity and energy filled the room as we engaged the audience to participate. I tried to explain the evening to my parents, but couldn't quite recreate the dynamic membership experience. Replaying the promotional video clearly reinforced why we belong to EWI.

Reflect on the past year and think of moments you were grateful for. What experiences had an emotional impact? How did you feel? Who shared that moment with you? What if you had missed it?

I was so glad to hear Dawn O'Brien speak at the ASIST dinner. Reading Dawn's story would have been different. I would have missed her voice, the emotions revealed, and the impact left on my heart. I may have missed the inspiration needed on that day. Would I have missed the information exchanged from Miki Hwang as we walked to our cars? Maybe Miki would have told me that later. But was it Dawn's story that prompted me to ask? I thank God I was present but I regret not asking my nieces Lauren and Erin to be present.

Make it a priority to attend EWI meetings the second Wednesday of every month. Commit to networking from 5:30 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. Challenge yourself to learn a tidbit about each EWI member. Be prepared to evolve into the incredible individual you already are. EWI is that platform. In EWI you can expand your horizons, develop skills previously not considered, learn from mistakes, and nurture lasting friendships. What you can expect from this term is to be called on to participate.

Ask yourself, “What will it take for me to step up to coordinate an event, ask my boss to be present at a scholarship dinner, serve on the Board of Directors, or say YES to the position of VP/President Elect?” What motivates you? What opportunities have you passed on? Did you get a second chance?

Quoted from the movie STEP UP....

“People dance because dance can change things. One move can bring people together. One move can make you believe like there's something more. One move can set a whole generation free.”

Let's continue the party and dance together to new heights.....

Downtown Lunch Bunch

On Monday, August 29, 2011, EWI of Honolulu held a “Lunch Bunch” gathering at The Mandalay Restaurant in downtown Honolulu. Member representatives shared information on recent and upcoming EWI events such as the Birthday Event at the Next Step Shelter and Reading Rally to be held at the Honolulu Zoo. It was also a good time for new member reps to get to know about EWI from the seasoned members while dining on the fine cuisine of the restaurant.

By Sheri Tamayose

Welcome new members Roseann Bronston of Archipelago Hawaii, Rosanna Costales of Pacific Business News and Joyce Gooman of Lamination House. Be sure to introduce yourselves to them and share your warm EWI aloha!

Important Dates

- Oct 12 : Membership meeting 5:30pm at Royal Garden at Ala Moana Hotel
- Oct 26: Board of Directors meeting 5:30pm at Insurance Solutions LLC

Happy Birthday!
